BOGEY MEN STILL LIVE

It is a little bit hard to realize that three people are being held in Pennsylvania for a murder that had its roots in a belief in witchcraft.

A man and two boys are under arrest. They killed an aged recluse. It is said, because they felt that he was casting spells on them if they could kill him and perform certain rites with backs of his hair these spells would break down and all would be well.

This is a grotesque sort of thing to happen in a country that prides itself on its efficiency, its education and its general enlightenment. But one or two other murders in the same neighborhood can be traced to the same source.

The belief in witchcraft and black magic dies hard. It was born somewhere far back in the savage infancy of the race, and it has lingered on, as an unhealthy fad in the land, so the present day. Few of us are altogether free from superstition. Ordinarily a reluctance to sit at a table is the extent of it; but now and then you will find a person who has a shadowy, lurking fear of a result he dares if speed limits by themselves are really greatly needed.

It has been obvious for some time the world must have been a terrifying place for the short-lived savage. He had only his two hands and such makeshift weapons as could be made of wood and stone to cope with a universe that seemed overwhelmingly hostile. Nature brought him floods, famine and storms. The forest was full of wild beasts. There were hostile tribes about the next, ready to fall upon him if he did not keep alert. What wonder if he felt that he was unaided, was too weak and insignificant to stand alone; that there must be unseen powers in the sky that could help or harm him if he performed the proper charms?

Naturally, that attitude has persisted. It is still hard for a man to realize that he holds the earth in his hand. The idea that nothing at all is impossible in the human race is a relatively new one. We will start and shudder at noise in the dark.

Despite all of our modern inventions and discoveries, the world is still a perplexing and bewildering place. The man who can confront it without a tremor is the man who can embrace himself of his own spiritual grandeur. Once you establish in your own mind the fact that you are "heir of all the ages" the most mysterious and mysterious of all the works of a mysterious and marvelously creative, neither can friction or words you are free. For that sort of knowledge is for more widespread than it is, we shall continue to have backward centuries, where the prices of the power of darkness is feared as a living reality.

OVERHEATED ROOMS

Here's a tip for parents of small children who fear that winter weather will bring their youngsters cold and sickness.
Dr. Harvey Wiley, writing in Good Housekeeping Magazine, says that the chief reason children have more colds in winter than in summer is that in the winter they are prone to live in over-heated living rooms and to sleep in over-heated and unventilated bedrooms.

A sleeping room, he says, should always be ventilated, even in the coldest weather, and is better far unheated in cold weather than over-heated.

Probably most of us tend to over-heat our homes. Any doctor will corroborate what Dr. Wiley says; the current way to catch cold is to have too much heat.

SPEED AND ACCIDENTS

An English traffic expert, after a long study of traffic statistics, finds that something like 50 per cent of all traffic accidents occur when the autos involved are being driven at a rate of 10 miles an hour or less. As a result he dares if speed limits by themselves are really greatly needed.

It has been obvious for some time that more speed, uncompensated by any other factor, is not necessarily dangerous. There are plenty of times and places where 40 miles an hour is not too fast.

But there is this to remember: if, driving at 10 miles an hour, you happen to hit another car, you won't have a very bad wreck. But if you hit something when you're doing 40, you probably won't live to have another accident. The low speeds may bring the greater number of accidents, but the high speeds bring the more serious ones.

NEW FARM METHODS

Whatever the ins and outs of farm relief as a general subject may be, it is becoming evident that the application of scientific principles to agriculture is a first essential.

The extension service of the State College of Washington, recently issued a bulletin to dairy farmers of that state, pointing out that any dairy cow which failed to produce at least 100 pounds of butter fat a year costs her owner more than she gives. The farmer actually is out at the pocket at the end of the year with such cows in his herd.

A case of years ago the average farmer wouldn't have known what you meant if you talked about "butter fat" and the like. The old methods of farming, glorified by unthinking conservatism, were wasteful and inefficient. Scientific methods, exemplified by this Washington State College activity, are what agriculture needs.

STAFF CAPTAIN A. L. STEELE, O.B.E.

SOUND PICTURES SATURDAY NIGHT ONLY

Considering there are only a few theatres in Canada equipped for sound pictures it is hard to realize that Sound Pictures have been here to bring such equipment to your town.

Such is the case, however, and after months of special construction work by the leading Sound experts the production of Sweet Adeline has been brought to a state of perfection, only reached by the leading theatres in Canada and the United States.

This is a treat you cannot afford to miss. It is a masterpiece of the meritorious and wonders of Sound Pictures are being hailed as the greatest invention of a century.

The programme offered you includes besides the feature production "Sweet Adeline," a beautiful story of Indian lore produced in Natural Color—a treat well worth the price of admission alone.

POLICE DETECTIVE ROLE LON CHANEY'S NEWEST

Lon Chaney appears in an entirely new role, as a police detective, in "While the City Sleeps," his latest Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer vehicle which comes Monday and Tuesday to the Empress Theatre.

The story directed by Jack Conway, of "Twelve Miles Out" fame, is a vivid romance of police and gangster warfare in New York. Chaney, leading a band of detectives, fights a machine gun duel with a gangster army, participates in a running gun battle across the roof of the city, and intimate details of such police practice as the "shadow box" and third degree, fingerprinting and other identification tricks of detectives are shown in an inside view of police procedure.

Through the succession of thrilling runs a pretty love story between Chaney, the heroine, Anita Page, and Carroll Nye, who plays a youthful gangster. The cast includes Mac Burch, last seen with Chaney in "The Unholy Three," Richard Carls, former famous musical comedy star, Lydia Yeaman Titus, Pally Moran, Clinton Lytle, and others of note.

No less an asset to this, or any other picture is Richard Arlen. He has a power, a forcefulness, a sincerity in his acting which brings his roles close to the heart of any audience.

NEAR-STEERING
"Have you ever driven a car?" the lady applicant for a license was asked.

REV. GAVIN HAMILTON PIERCE, DEACON PASTOR OF THE
CUMMIS TO THE ATTACK

Pierce Creek, Jan. 5.—The Rev. Gavin Hamilton of Beaver Creek, Jan. 5, at the age of 79 years, after many years of illness, passed away at his home on Thursday evening, Jan. 3rd at the age of 79 years. After many years of illness, he passed away at his home on Thursday evening, Jan. 3rd at the age of 79 years. After many years of illness, he passed away at his home on Thursday evening, Jan. 3rd at the age of 79 years.

The funeral was held in the United Church, Pioneer Creek, at 12:30 p.m. on Saturday, Jan. 5, at 11 o'clock, A. M., officiating. The body was laid to rest in the living cemetery. Many neighbors and friends from Beaver Creek and Mountain View came to pay a last tribute, also Dr. P. M. Campbell of Lethbridge, who arrived in a motorcade.

The casket was strewn with flowers among them being a beautiful wreath from the Ladies' Aid of the church at Beaver Creek.

The full list of names: W. D. McDowell, Geo. Haldeney, E. M. Brown, M. McDonald, F. Link and E. Link, all neighbors of the deceased, also the Rev. G. Hamilton was born in Campbellton, New Brunswick. He graduated from high school in his home town and went to Dalhousie University, after which he attended the Fine Arts Technical College at Halifax, N. S. In 1881 he came west and accepted the pastorate of the Presbyterian church at Macleod, where he remained for nine years. While in Macleod in 1895 he met and married Miss Wilger of Toronto who was on the teaching staff of the Macleod school.

In 1897 he was transferred to Carleton where he and Mrs. Hamilton, who had three children, lived until 1901. After nine years of service there and on account of failing health, Mr. Hamilton was given a lighter charge at Cowley and Mountain View, where he lived for nine years when Mr. Hamilton was forced to retire on pension through ill health. For the last three years Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton and their only son, Gordon, have resided on their farm near Beaver Creek, and during that time the family have endeavored themselves to all and their influence has been a power for good in the community. The deep sympathy of a host of friends go out to Mrs. Hamilton and son Gordon at this time.

REGULAR MEETING MACLEOD TOWN COUNCIL

The Macleod town council met Monday night for the regular monthly meeting. J. W. McDonald, R. C. C. presiding. The council members present were: A. M. Day, J. S. Stewart, C. W. Stevens, W. A. Henders, A. McLeod and C. E. Tweed.

The first business was the appointment of a deputy mayor for the three months, Alex McLeod being appointed to the position.

W. H. McNab was granted the permission for clearing the lands belonging to the town lying south of the town, at a number of town lots were sold and confirmed by the meeting, and the council is to be recommended in selling these vacant lots, although the prices secured are not very high. These lots will now be put on the tax roll and become revenue producing which is certainly good business. The lots sold were as follows: Twelve lots on the east side of lot 27 south of 19th Street, to John McMurich; lot 32, south of 25th Street in Section 4, to C. E. Tweed; and lot 23 and 24 south of 24th Street in J. J. Section 11, lot 23 south of 24th Street to C. E. Tweed. The fact that these lots have been sold shows that the purchasers have faith in Macleod, and along with the number of new buildings that have been erected within the past year and the number of private dwellings that have been changing hands is a sure indication that prospects for the future are very bright at Macleod.

HEALTH SERVICE OF THE CANADIAN MEDICAL ASSOCIATION—A HEALTH REVIEW

At the beginning of each year, it is customary, in many fields of human endeavor, to review the twelve months which have passed, to take stock of it, and to consider whether or not the year has been a profitable one. It is upon the successes and failures of the past year that we have our plans for the future.

It is, therefore, rather an appropriate time for us to review the health conditions of our families as they were during the past year. First of all, we should consider whether or not we have taken those steps which would protect us from certain diseases. Vaccination does prevent small-pox. Have you allowed your self or your children to be exposed to this disease through failure to vaccination or as a means of protection. Diphtheria can be prevented by diphtheria immunization. Have you allowed this disease to continue as a menace to the very lives of your children by your failure to have them immunized?

Safe water and pure milk are fundamental needs. Contaminated water and dirty milk are still the cause of much sickness and many deaths. Have you seen to it that the water you and your family drink, and the milk that you use are of the highest quality with the absence of impurities and milk hanging over you?

Have you given attention to your house? Are your windows screened to keep out flies? Do the windows open to allow for proper ventilation? Does the garbage get into your room?

A much larger measure of health is within the grasp of most of us, but we must make the necessary effort to secure it. If you do not, last year, if you were careless in health matters, start off this year by doing the things you should do in order to avoid certain diseases and to lead healthier lives.

Questions concerning Health, addressed to the Canadian Medical Association, 184 College Street, Toronto, will be answered personally by letter.

RED CROSS NURSERY AT U. F. A. CONVENTION

As in former years the Red Cross Society, on the invitation of the U. F. A., will operate a Nursery for the babies and children who accompany their parents to the convention, on Jan. 12th.

Updates in the large and airy room of the First Presbyterian Church, allotted to the Red Cross for this purpose will be found year after year.

Tables and other comforts for the little ones will be provided. A corner of the nursery is set aside for the orphans and children who are brought to the convention by the Red Cross.

A table of health literature, for the distribution of which the Red Cross is famous all over Alberta, will be shown, the attendance being Mrs. M. H. Conquest, known to many mothers as the Lady Lady of the Red Cross Nursery.

Many county delegates have written in their desire to meet the Lady Lady in person, and are looking forward to this opportunity to do so at the Red Cross Nursery.

It is hoped the many families attending the U. F. A. Convention will make full use of the Nursery, and if possible get better acquainted with the many various services which the Red Cross continues to render to the people of the province in times of peace and in times of war.

It is necessary in many county districts to be aware of the vast humanitarian program of the Alberta Division.

The Family Herald and Weekly Star of Montreal has a record for subscribers receiving voluntarily and continuously year after year. After all it is not surprising when one considers the quantity and quality of the service given each week and at a price ridiculously low—$1 a year for three years for $2.
